II. STRUCTURAL INFORMATION

1. Approximately 5 years ago, a new washing machine was installed. Water hoses were not properly connected, resulting in water running down the wall and into the closet below. The installation company covered all repairs and anything with water damage was removed and replaced.

24. We have the septic pumped every 1-2 years because we believe that is good practice and keeps the system in better condition. We have never had any problems with it. The contractor we use is Rich Close, 605-203-0270.

ADDITIONAL COMMENTS:

Approximately 12-13 years ago, an Ottertail Power pole collapsed near our property. The in-floor heat thermostat and furnace thermostat were affected and both were replaced. A thorough inspection of the house was completed by an electrician and no other issues were found.

High humidity when the house was built, created some damage on some of the window sills. This is not related to any water leak issues. We were unaware that we should have been running dehumidifiers during the process.

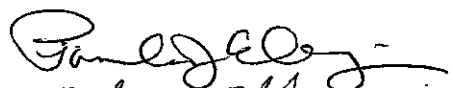

A second sump (straight ahead from the basement stairs) was added about 5 years after we built the house. It was added just as a precaution/peace of mind for when we were out of town. It rarely ever runs, generally only if there is a wet spring.

The basement bonus room has a raised floor. This was done to keep the floor warmer. It was raised up with 2x2s and plywood. The carpet in the room does have stains.

The ½ bath in the basement is plumbed for future use as a full bath.

There is a well on the property. Since selling our cattle, we have had no need to use it. It is located north of the open-faced shed. There is a pump jack for it that will be left with the property. Our local farmers use the rural water system for all water needs.

The orange extension cord in the basement that leads to the garage will be left and could be used for a generator.
